i. Conditions for the grant of House Rent Allowance :

- (a) Eligibility to the allowance will be determined with reference to the place of duty of the individual concerned.
- (b) The allowance will not be admissible to those who occupy accommodation provided by Government or those to whom accommodation has been offered by Government but who have refused it.
- (c) The employee for whom the allowance has been specified as a percentage of pay will give a certificate to the effect that the sum actually spent by him on house rent is not less than 10 per cent. of his pay plus the amount of the allowance paid to him and that no portion of the accommodation is sub-let or occupied normally by adults other than those belonging to his family.
- (d) An employee residing in a hotel or boarding house is also eligible for the allowance subject to the condition that the department will determine what proportion of the charge should be allocated to rent. Decision on this point will be based on a consideration of the accommodation occupied and the comparative cost of similar accommodation elsewhere.
- (e) An employee, for whom the allowance has been specified as a percentage of pay and is living in a house owned by him, is also eligible for house rent allowance. In such cases the rental value of the house (as ascertained from its assessed value for municipal purposes or otherwise) should be taken as the rent paid by him for private accommodation for purposes of these orders.
- (f) An employee, eligible for house allowance, who is on duty only for a part of a month shall draw house allowance for the period admissible calculated on the basis of the house allowance that would have been drawn by him had he continued to serve for the full month.
- (g) The house rent allowance may be drawn during leave or temporary transfer, if (a) the Controlling Officer certifies that the employee is likely, on the expiry of the leave or temporary transfer, to return to duty at the station from which he proceeds on leave or is transferred, or at another station in which he will be entitled to a similar allowance, and (b) the employee certifies either—
  - (i) that he or his family or both continued to reside for the period, for which the allowance is claimed, in the station from which he proceeds on leave or was transferred; or
  - (ii) that he continued for the period, for which the allowance is claimed, to incur the whole or a considerable part of the expenditure on rent for which the allowance was granted.
- (h) During temporary transfer house rent allowance may be drawn by the employees at both stations. The rate of house rent allowance in such cases should be based on the pay of the post with reference to which the allowance is drawn, i.e. on the basis of the pay in the new post for the allowance drawn at the new station and on the basis of the pay which the employee would have drawn but for his transfer for the drawal of the house rent allowance at the old station.
- (i) The allowance may be drawn during leave or temporary transfer provided that the period during which it will be admissible shall not exceed 4 months. If it is known at the very outset that the total period will exceed 4 months, such allowance shall not be allowed at all. In case the period of leave is extended piece-meal, the allowance will be admissible only upto the date of expiry of the original or extended leave not exceeding 4 months or the date of sanction to the first subsequent extension which causes the total period of leave to exceed 4 months, whichever is earlier.
- (j) The allowance may be allowed to employees on leave without pay also, subject to the condition that the total period of leave (other than leave preparatory to retirement) in respect of which allowances are drawn does not exceed the limit of 4 months referred to in (i) above. No allowance will, however, be admissible during leave preparatory to retirement.

4. Conditions for the grant of Compensatory (City allowance).

- (a) Eligibility to the allowance will be determined with reference to the place of duty of the individual concerned.
- (b) The allowance may be drawn during leave or temporary transfer provided that the period during which it will be admissible shall not exceed 4 months. If it is known at the very outset that the total period will exceed 4 months, such allowance shall not be allowed at all. In case the period of leave is extended piece-meal, the allowance would be admissible only upto the date of expiry of the original or extended leave not exceeding 4 months or the date of sanction to the first subsequent extension which causes the total period of leave to exceed 4 months whichever is earlier.
- (c) The allowance may be allowed to employees on leave without pay also, subject to the condition that the total period of leave (other than leave preparatory to retirement) in respect of which allowances are drawn does not exceed the limit of 4 months referred to in (b) above. No allowance will, however, be admissible during leave preparatory to retirement.

Memorandum on the probable amount of rain and snow in Northwest India in January, February and March 1952

It is possible in some years to form a rough estimate of the probable amount of winter precipitation in Northwest India during January to March from certain antecedent atmospheric conditions in different parts of the globe. The factors which act as guides in this matter are, in the order of decreasing reliability, the following :—

(1) The westerly component of the upper winds over northern India at a height of 3 to 5 miles

(September second half and October first half).

- (2) Mean pressure in December in South America.
- (3) December rain in western region.
- (4) December rain at Port Blair.

2. DIVISION 'NORTHWEST INDIA'.

In this memorandum 'Northwest India' is taken to consist of the Uttar Pradesh, the Punjab (I) (including PEPSU and Delhi), Rajasthan, Gujarat, Saurashtra and Cutch. In as much, however, as the rainfall in March in the Uttar Pradesh is said to be prejudicial rather than favourable to the crops, this rainfall is not taken into consideration.

3. DATA.

The relevant data for the present season are :—

- (1) The high level winds over northern India :— The westerly component of the upper winds was weak over New Delhi and Gwalior.
- (2) South American Pressure :—Pressure was 1.3 mm. above normal in December.
- (3) The western rain was considerably below normal in December.
- (4) December rainfall at Port Blair was in large excess.

4. CONCLUSION.

Out of the four factors which are used in forecasting, three factors, viz, high level winds over northern India, western rain and Port Blair rain are very unfavourable while south American pressure is very favourable. The statistical indications are that the combined rainfall and snowfall in Northwest India during January to March 1952 is likely to be either normal or slightly below normal.

NEW DELHI,

The 8th January 1952.

V. V. SOHONI,

Director General of Observatories.
